"I am the good shepherd; I know my sheep and my sheep know me," John 10:14.

Mrs. Lavezzi's Class

For the last full week of school, we will be finishing up our final assessments and reviewing skills we have learned all year. Our Bible story of the week is Phillip and the Ethiopian man and baptism. Our Final Second Steps focus will be a review of the calming down steps and fair ways to play. Students will not need to bring their backpacks next Monday for our field trip, but please DO send in a backpack on Wednesday the 18th for our last day. There will be a number of things going home that day.

Mrs. Burns Class

We are excited for our last full week of school. In Bible Time this week we will learn about Paul and his missionary journeys. First and Second will be writing a descriptive paragraph about their summer plans and have their final spelling unit. We will be having our end of year reading assessments and planning ahead to make our Father's Day gifts. No memory this week.

Mrs. Jackson's Class

It's so hard to believe this is our last full week of school. We look forward to helping our chapel buddy fly their kite, egg drop, a special movie time to wrap up our last literature project, and so much more. Students will complete spelling lesson 24. These words along with their memory can be found in their planners. Students are finishing social studies as we explore the west. Each student is also finishing their travel brochure for the state he or she chose. Our class looks forward to learning more about each state. We continue with planet presentations in science. In language arts, we will review the many concepts we've learned this year and wrap up with a final writing project. Students are reviewing their times tables and math concepts from throughout the year. God's blessings to each of you this summer!

Mrs. Uhls Class

I can hardly believe it's the last full week of school already! The year flew by! The students will be completing some fun end of year activities this week! For math, the students will plan and budget their dream vacation. They'll make Italian food from scratch as an extension of our Italian Renaissance social studies lessons. We will also have a "Renaissance" day, where the students will complete Renaissance-themed science, social studies, and art activities. We'll visit the church and parsonage gardens this week, and the students will get to plant and take home some of the seeds they started a few weeks ago. Their Science posters are due Thursday, and the students will present their poster to the class.

Student of the Week

Corinne Rondi is in 8th grade, and some of her favorites are sushi, volleyball, and art. Her hero is Armin Arlert who is an intelligent person who has overcome many difficult situations and remained strong, kind and funny. The best book she ever read is The Song of Achilles which is about a young prince who is thrown from his kingdom and meets Achilles. A favorite memory is her first volleyball game after having not played for two years. They were very nervous, but everything went very well and won the game! When she grows up she wants a career with a good income. God bless Corinne!

Our annual Egg Drop Contest will be Friday, May 13, at 2:15 PM. Your egg container must be around 1500 cubic centimeters.
