Mrs. Jackson's class

Grades 3-4-5 are so excited for our Field Day tomorrow. Thank you to the many parents who are joining us. Please meet in Mrs. Jackson's room at 8:25 tomorrow morning. All 3-4-5 students should wear a blue t-shirt, clothes you are comfortable running and moving in, and sneakers. Also, as I write this, it is expected to be sunny and hot; please consider wearing sunscreen. Students should bring a sack lunch and a water bottle.

Our week is packed with learning for grades 3-7. Students will complete math lessons 19-22. Both language arts classes are wrapping up their 3rd unit and will take a test on Thursday. Both classes continue their novel studies for September in reading. Students will also work on grade level based nonfiction reading packets. Grades 3-4-5 begin their journey to the new world from Spain as we read about Christopher Columbus's famous voyage. Grades 6-7 also begin the Age of Exploration, but they begin their focus on changes that occurred throughout Europe that lead to exploration. Students in both groups will also complete geography packets. In art class, we begin a colored pencil, autumn drawing. Grades 3-4-5 will complete spelling unit 5, and take their test on Friday. Spelling words to study are written in the planner each week. Grades 3-7 look forward to another busy week.
